

Architecture Review

Ensure confidence with a comprehensive, expert-led review of your data platform architecture

Our comprehensive architecture review offers a structured evaluation of your data platform to ensure it aligns with industry best practices, is scalable, secure and meets with your business goals. We identify risks, gaps and opportunities for improvement based on wider technical strategy aspirations.

Benefits of an Architecture Review

- Reduces Risk: Identifies design flaws early, preventing costly rework.
- Ensures Alignment: Confirms your solution meets business, technical, and compliance requirements.
- Improves Quality: Enhances performance, security, and scalability through expert validation. Comparing it to industry reference architecture patterns.
- Optimises Costs: Avoids over-engineering and lowers long-term maintenance expenses based on cloud resource run costs across all environments.
- Builds Confidence: Provides transparency and assurance for stakeholders.

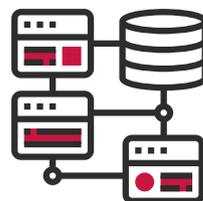

Our Approach

A complete review of all design documentation, including architecture diagrams and low-level thinking.

Collaboration with in-house teams to understand direction, innovation, platform thinking and pain points.

A hands-on inspection of the platform, looking at the technical implementation, including production deployments.

A detailed, evidence based, write up and playback of findings, recommendations, and considerations vs your technical roadmap.

Outcomes

- A comprehensive review of your data platform architecture, written up with an evidence-based impact assessment for digestion by your technical teams.
- A set of summarised, visual playback slides, including potential improvement patterns and an executive summary.
- Suggested next steps to convert the architecture review into a full technical roadmap and plan across future use cases, driven by business value.
